Wake Up and Breakfast
The housemother wakes everyone up, but she cycles through the floors, so you might be able to sleep in a little longer. If you have trouble waking up, think about breakfast. Waffles, bagels, muffins, fruit, cereal and yogurt. How does one choose?! Motivation!!

Short Break & Snack
You can play ping-pong or foosball, read, finish homework, get a snack, practice, or just relax with your friends.

Academic Classes
In Science class, we make awesome telescopes! They actually work well, but the image is upside down. Oops. In English, we write essays and learn writing techniques. In Art class we are please fill in! In History, we make a blueprint of a city-state in Greece. In Math, we talk about game theory and how it works. In Latin, we work on translating a tricky passage from the Oxford Latin book about Quintus playing a prank on his teacher. In Music Theory we are playing the pieces we composed last night in front of the whole class. I hope I’m ready!

Choir Rehearsal
After brushing our teeth, we go down to choir rehearsal to practice the music for Evensong tonight. First, we fill up our water bottles and grab our pencils. Then, it’s time to sing. At the end of rehearsal, I am assigned a solo. I’ve got to practice before Evensong tonight!

Sports
I sprint down the stairs to make sure I am on time to sports. We start with some warm-ups. Then we do drills to practice for our basketball games, and play a scrimmage at the end. Even though my team loses, we work really hard. I think we are ready for our game on Friday.

Lunch
Finally, it’s time for lunch with our five-star chef and her wonderful cooking. Our food is the best! I especially enjoy the sticky toffee pudding for dessert.
Walk to Church & Rehearsal
The walkover is fun because we get to see the city. We practice for Evensong with the Gentlemen of the choir. I rehearse my solo. We work on a trouble spot that I got wrong.

Dinner
The singing tired all of us out. Time to fill up on spaghetti and meatballs and to take a few minutes to relax and talk to my friends.

Study Hall
We do our homework and read. Tonight I spend extra time working on my concept map for history class. I want to make sure I’m ready for exams in a few weeks.

Lights Out
Time to brush our teeth and get into bed. We have some time to read before we fall asleep, and then we all crash after another awesome day.

Call Home & Snack
We chill out and talk to our parents. It’s always great to hear my mom. We talk about what we should do on Saturday when she comes to pick me up for the afternoon. We also eat ‘midnight’ snack and drink tea, and sometimes hot chocolate. Tonight it’s Cheeze-Its. Yum!

Short Break
I run straight to the ping-pong table and play with my friends. Sometimes I grab a piece of fruit at the end.

Evensong
I sing my solo. It’s great! The Choirmaster is so proud of me that he gives me the ‘Man of the Match’ award for the night.
